2nd International Conference on the

PPPJ 2003 Principles and Practice of Programming in Java

June 16-18, 2003

ACM SIGAPP

Organised by the National University of Ireland, Maynooth in cooperation with the ACM Special Interest Group on Applied Computing

NUI MAYNOOTH
Ollscoil na hÉireann Má Nuad

This conference seeks to draw together researchers, teachers and programmers who study or work with the Java programming language to discuss the principles and practice of its use in a friendly and convivial academic environment. The Inaugural Conference on the Principles and Practice of Programming in Java PPPJ'02 was held in Trinity College, Dublin, Ireland on June 13-14th, 2002.

This year's conference is being held in co-operation with ACM SIGAPP, the Special Interest Group on Applied Computing, whose mission is to further the development of new applications and the transfer of computing technology to new problem domains.

Topics

We invite papers exploring all aspects of Java programming; in particular we seek research papers covering the principles of programming in Java, and teaching and experience reports dealing with the practice of Java programming.

Topics of interest include, but are not limited to:

- Software Engineering with Java
- Design Patterns through Java
- Performance of Java Programs
- Teaching Java Programming
- Program Design and Implementation
- Novel Applications of Java
- Practice and experience
- Applications in science, engineering and mathematics

This list of topics is not intended to be exhaustive; papers related to other aspects of Java programming are welcome.

Important dates

31st January 2003:	Extended Deadline for Submission of papers
17th March 2003:	Notification of Acceptance
16-18th June 2003:	Conference

Workshops

The Workshop on Intermediate Representation Engineering for Virtual Machines will be co-located with PPPJ'03. If you would like to organise a workshop associated with PPPJ'03, please contact the organisers at `info@pppj.org`

Call for Reviewers

All papers at PPPJ will be subjected to a double-blind review process by at least three independent reviewers. If you would be willing to act as a reviewer for PPPJ 2003, please contact the conference organisers at `reviewers@pppj.org`
